GENERAL USE PREFERRED CHANNEL MARKS

IALA A

U.S. Lettering Standards

System: General Use.

Function: Laterally significant preferred channel marks.

Nominal Range: 1 nm.

Additional Data: For both JR (Junction - Red) and JG (Junction - Green) markers, letters are vertically centered on the dividing line of the dayboards film. The letters on a JR dayboard are red, while those on a JG are green. If lighted, the light matches the top color with a composite group flashing (2+1) characteristic.
