Hey, [REDACTED]! I hope you enjoyed your leave - now get to work! We won't be back until early Nov. so if you head to Seattle while the weather is still nice, you'll miss us. But, then again, we're used to it. By the time you figure out your job, you'll have to leave or extend to be of any use! ;)

Actually, I do need a couple things from you guys: We ARE sending ENS [REDACTED] to the 23 Oct MEDO course. She is already SCUBA qual'd from last summer. We'll get her physical updated before she gets there. She'll leave the ship on 8 Oct. The only chance I have to give her the fitness test is in DH 30Aug - 4Sept. However, she is a seasoned triathlete & is in great shape for showing up on such short notice. She competed on the CG team in 2 competitions in July. She has had no changes in her medical/physical status over the past year. I will mail out her complete paperwork & as much of a physical as I can in DH; the rest of the physical will be faxed from ISC Seattle prior to her arrival. Please let me know if there are any problems with this.

Although it's way in advance, I am quite sure we'll take one of the quotas in the April 2007 SCUBA class for DC3 [REDACTED]

Additionally, Our dry suit inventory is in poor shape. I have several Vikings that we don't use anymore & a few crushed neoprene suits. I am the only one with the new Whites HazMat suit and even though I have 2 of them, they are both the wrong size (XXS & S). [REDACTED] & I are similar sizes so I think she'd fit into an XS also. Since I am leaving in March, there is no need to get one for me, but can she please come back with one? Or, are dry suits something we should purchase on our own? I also need them for our other 2 divers but don't know what sizes they need. Are we switching entirely over to the haz suit? Can I send all the suits we're not using back to you or what should I do with them???

Sorry to bombard you with a million questions when you're still trying to figure out where your office is, but thanks for the help!

Cheers,
Jessica

Hey Jess,
Sorry I didn't write you back sooner...I just got back from leave. Im still trying to figure out what exactly I do down here. So far so good...Im sure we will be out to see you soon.

[REDACTED] said he got the dates for you so I guess you don't need me for anything.

Hopefully Ill see you soon.

HSC - Congrats on your promotion! My favorite person on this boat is the HSC. :) How did [REDACTED] retirement go? I wish I could have come down there. Did you get enough money for the gifts & what did you end up getting? Any pictures? I'd still be more than happy to contribute to his gifts even though I never managed to get any money sent off before we left this summer. Also, is he still around as a civilian or do you have a personal email address for him? I also wanted to send a note of appreciation & well wishes. Thanks. Is "LT" [REDACTED] treating you right?

[REDACTED] - You should be ashamed of yourself scamming such a fun job! Hope you're having a fantastic time. Tell [REDACTED] I said Hill I need to email her too... Ugh, too many "to do's".

So here's my question: can you guys send me a list of SCUBA & Dive Officer courses coming up from Sept 06 thru next year? Right now I only have 1 who definitely wants to go, 1 who wants to go but wants to do the pressure test first, and 1 SCUBA diver ENS who wants to be our dive o next year when I leave. The XO wants her to commit to a 3rd year here if she goes though, and she's only been here 2 weeks so she needs more time to weigh that decision.

Enjoy the heat & do a dive for me.
Cheers,
Jessica
